FIAP BLUE BADGE

Salerno Biagio
Italy

My name is Biagio Salerno. I was born in March '78 in Palermo, Sicily, Italy, where I currently live with my family. I like reading and travelling. I use the photographic tool to record and tell the stories, sometimes real, sometimes imaginary, that I encounter (or think I encounter) during my travels. I learned to photograph precisely to be better able to "write" about what I saw, because, if with words I wasn't at all effective, with the images I had in my head I was (I hope); it soon became my direct and immediate way of transcribing onto a medium what I observed of the reality around me; street photography, architecture, nature and still life, among my major interests, even if nature photography has a particular place in my heart; in fact, I like to represent situations with a very high emotional impact that light and animal life can give me during my observations in the field. I have over 550 awards in national and international competitions, won in 69 different countries. I received the international honor EFIAP/S (Excellence de la Federation Internationale de l'Art Photographique Silver) and some national honours.
